

NO DECISION ON MOLINEUX MOTION

Weeks's Application to See the Grand Jury Minutes Is in Abeyance.

THE JUDGE EXPLAINS WHY. He Is Waiting for the District Attorney's Brief in Opposition.

THE TRIAL MAY BE VERY SOON. Colonel Gardiner Said to Be Opposed to Compelling the Prisoner to Remain in the Tombs Until Fall Untried.

Contrary to expectation, Judge Blanchard, of Part I, of the Court of General Sessions, did not hand down his decision yesterday on the motion to permit the defense in the case of Round B. Molineux to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury. The reason for this was explained by the judge himself, who said that he could not prepare his decision until District Attorney Gardner had submitted a brief in support of his opposition to the granting of the motion. This Colonel Gardiner has not done. He has until Wednesday to present the brief.

Molineux's lawyers will be permitted to see the brief of the District Attorney and be given time in which to render an answering brief, so that the pleading of Molineux may be deferred until next week, and may even then be still further postponed by the interposition of a demurrer by his lawyers.

May Be Tried Soon. At present it is not the intention of the District Attorney to allow Molineux to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury. The judge giving him the opportunity of establishing his innocence before a jury. The fact that Molineux has not had an examination during which the witnesses could be cross-examined is one of the reasons why the District Attorney believes he should be accorded a speedy trial. Still, the District Attorney, acting within his prerogative, may find it to the advantage of the case to postpone the trial until the first of April.

The Judiciary Committee of the State proposed, it is reported, to investigate the methods of the District Attorney in securing the indictment of Molineux. This action is not for the purpose of interfering or delaying in any way the prosecution of Molineux, but anticipates action by the committee, by which it is sought to secure for an accused person the right of preliminary examination before presentation to a Grand Jury.

The committee contemplates an amendment to the law which will give an accused person this right of preliminary examination before a Magistrate, when the witnesses against him may be cross-examined. Molineux's lawyers are fighting the amendment before the committee on the ground that Molineux was not accorded such preliminary examination before he was indicted.

District Attorney Opposed. Colonel Gardiner and his entire staff are opposed strenuously to the proposed amendment on the ground that cases of great criminal importance, such as the Molineux case, may be unduly prolonged by the preliminary examination to the detriment of the case itself before it finally reaches the Grand Jury.

Captain McCuskey and Detectives Carr and McCafferty are still co-operating harmoniously with the District Attorney on the further investigation of the Molineux case. Carr and McCafferty were in consultation yesterday with Assistant District Attorney Osborn, and it was reported last night that during the day Captain McCuskey visited Newark and went from there with two of the local police detectives to Orange.

Burtow S. Weeks called on Molineux at the Tombs yesterday. Frequently during the talk between lawyer and client they laughed heartily. Molineux has discarded his standing collar, silk tie and starched shirt. He now wears a black sweater, in which he says he feels much ease.

EVIL IN THE PACKERS' CAMP

Millions of Cans Brought Back from Europe for Our Army.

PROVED BY ARMOUR'S MAN. Inspector Dyeson Admitted That Condemned Cattle Found Their Way to the Open Market.

NO INVESTIGATION MADE YET. The Chicago Journal Demands That the Whole Truth Come Out Against the Gang of Dishonest Contractors.

Chicago, March 13.—Major Lee, representing General Mills before the Army Board of Inquiry into the beef scandal, scored two telling points today. He proved by one of Mr. Armour's own chiefs, Mr. Arthur Meeker, that nearly half a million cans of beef were taken out of European storehouses, brought back to this country, and sold to our army during the war with Spain, and that none of the so-called "condemned beef" was or is really nutritious.

Arthur Meeker said the firm had 500,000 pounds in Chicago, and 100,000 pounds in New York. It has sold 2,500,000 pounds in large quantities to the Southern camps.

When Major Lee asked the witness about the employment of G. J. Brine and C. M. Fawcett by Armour & Co., and whether both gentlemen had not been in Washington during the winter, he admitted that the two gentlemen were then in the employ of the firm, but not under his direction.

Taking up the canned roast beef, the witness was asked if the French Government had not returned some of the meat in 1894. Mr. Meeker said it had returned a few cases on account of one lot in a case having been broken in transportation or handling. He said his firm had sold 19,000,000 pounds of French Government beef and that 492,300 pounds were reshipped to the United States in order to fill the orders of the Government.

Dr. O. E. Dyeson, who has been an inspector at the stock yards since 1893, was next called. He said his duties were to look after the other inspectors and see that they do their duty.

From your observation would it be possible to take out meat from the tank when once it was in it? "It would be possible, but I don't think it very probable."

"It would not be very inviting," "After once being thrown into a tank it would be the possibility of its being used for food."

"I don't think it could be." "Where would it have to be taken to be worked up?"

"It would have to be taken to the sausage room or to the tanning room." "Have you ever had occasion to believe or suspect that that practice existed in any registered packing house?"

"Not within the last four or five years." "How was it prior to that time?" "I never had any positive evidence of any kind, but at that time, but I was stationed at a house where there were rumors or reports that probably such a thing was done."

"It was reported to me. It got around to the inspectors in charge or to me." "But you made no investigation or participated in any investigations?"

"No, it was outside of my duty. Some cattle thrown out at the yards were driven to what are known as 'dirt houses'—houses that had no inspection—and were killed under the supervision of the city inspectors."

Several of the Chicago papers are using their best efforts to help the Board of Inquiry which is in the Chicago papers, the most notable case being that of the Times-Herald, generally regarded as President McKinley's personal organ. To point out the duty of every honest newspaper to print the facts, the following pertinent paragraph:

"But why should honest men be called upon to hold their tongues to any dishonest contractor? And why should they be induced to suggest abandoning the prosecution of Luckett because his trial would be a scandal? The Journal believes that the discovery of the facts of the meat sales may hurt the packing trade. But the Journal believes that it will hurt no honest packers."

"The newspapers and people of Chicago should co-operate with honest investigators of the beef scandal. The Journal believes that the meat sales may hurt the packing trade. But the Journal believes that it will hurt no honest packers."
